Equal Opportunities

The Council is required by law, for example, the Local Government in Scotland Act 2003 to promote equality and social justice throughout all our services. Where our housing service is concerned, the Housing (Scotland) Act 2001 requires us to make sure that our services address any form of discrimination.

The Housing (Scotland) Act 2010 requires that we:

“act in a manner which encourages equal opportunities and in particular the observance of the requirements of the law for the time being related to equal opportunities” (Housing (Scotland) Act 2010, Section 39)

This leaflet provides you with general information about what this means for our tenants and service users.

The Council is generally referred to as “we” throughout this leaflet. Tenants are normally referred to as “you”.

Equal Opportunity Defined

Equal opportunity is defined by the Scotland Act 1998 and covers all of the grounds on which discrimination may occur. The Equality Act 2010 introduces 9 protected characteristics which housing providers must ensure are used to proactively remove discrimination and promote equality. These are:

♦ age
♦ disability
♦ gender reassignment
♦ marriage and civil partnership
♦ pregnancy and maternity
♦ race
♦ religion or belief
♦ sex
♦ sexual orientation.

In line with the law, we will not unfairly or unlawfully discriminate against people on any of these grounds.

Legal Requirements
Our legal requirements in respect of age, disability and race for example, requires us to ensure our services are accessible. This includes having information published in plain language and in alternative formats such as in large print, audio-format or Braille. Interpreters and signers can be used too, as appropriate, to ensure that our services are accessible to all service users.

Orkney Islands Council Policy and Practices

We have set up a detailed Council policy that covers all of our services, including that of Housing Services.

In line with this policy, we are committed to “mainstream”, that is, incorporate equality into all areas of our service provision. We will continually review the way our services are delivered to make sure that our practices are not discriminatory in their effects.

Should discrimination occur, we will take immediate action to stop the discrimination. We view discrimination as being totally unacceptable and, if necessary, legal action will be taken to deal with it.

In order to tackle discrimination, we have set up a comprehensive monitoring system. For example, we monitor types of complaints received and actions taken to resolve these complaints. Again, we monitor house lets to ensure that the way we let houses is not discriminatory.

Positive Action

We actively promote positive action. Positive action involves encouraging groups that are under-represented in housing to take advantage of opportunities for training and employment. This might involve liaising with groups representative of race equality matters, for instance, to promote employment opportunities in housing for people from black and minority ethnic communities.

Information and Advice

We offer advice and information about a broad range of equality matters. For more information you should contact Housing Services.
